EMPTY CASKS AND PACKAGES.—At the request of Mr Fraser, Revenue Assessor, we publish the following synopsis of the revenue law relating to empty stamped casks and packages

By the provisions of section 48, act of July 20, 1868, every person who empties or drains off, or causes to be emptied or drained off, any distilled spirits from any cask or package bearing any mark, brand or stamp required by law, must at the time of emptying such cask or package, efface and obliterate such mark, brand or stamp. Any empty cask or package from which the mark, brand or stamp has not been effaced or obliterated is declared to be forfeited, and any internal revenue officer should seize the same wherever found.

Any person or transportation company who shall receive or transport, or have in possession with intent to transport, or to cause or procure to be transported, any such empty cask or package, or any part thereof, having thereon any brand, mark or stamp, required to be placed on casks or packages of distilled spirits, is liable to a penalty of $300 for each such cask or package, and any boat, railroad car, cart, or other vehicle, and all horses or other animals used in carrying or transporting the same are to be confiscated

Any person who shall fail or neglect to efface or obliterate such mark, brand or stamp, at the time of emptying such cask or package, or who shall receive any such cask or package, or any part thereof, with intent to transport the same, or who shall transport the same, or knowingly aid or assist therein, or who shall remove any stamp from any cask or package without defacing or destroying the same at the time of such removal, or aid or assist therein, or who shall have in his possession any such stamp so removed, or who shall have in his possession any cancelled stamps, or any stamps which have been or purport to have been used, is to be deemed guilty of a felony, and to be punished by fine and imprisonment.

The terms "effaced and obliterated" must be understood to mean complete destruction, so as to leave no part of the mark, stamp or brand legible or intelligible. Parties who have possession of, deal in, or are engaged in the transportation of empty casks or packages should understand their liability If they violate the law the penalty, though severe, must be enforced, and ignorance of its provisions, negligence or carelessness on the part of themselves or their subordinates is not a sufficient excuse. The offence, if committed, is declared to be a felony, and there is no power to compromise.

TWO CASES OF DROWNING.—We stated yesterday morning that a young man named John T. Haynes was drowned on Sunday in the Wallamet river. We learn by [illegible] who came down yesterday that the drowning took place at Ash Island, a few miles below the Yamhill river, and above Champoeg. The young man was crossing the river in a skiff and, by some means not explained, fell overboard. His friends and neighbors were on the river yesterday, as the boat came down, grappling for the body which had not, however, yet been found

A [illegible] case of drowning occurred on Saturday, at [illegible] river, a Washington Territory tributary of the Columbia, which empties about seven miles above Monticello. Thomas M. Hensill, son of S. M. Hensill, a young man of twenty-three years of age, went down about four P. M. to the Kalama, to assist the mail carrier across. When they reached the stream, which was too deep to ford, they found the boat on the opposite side. The mail carrier being afraid to try fording or swimming, Mr. H[illegible] proposed to the carrier to let him have the mule, and he would cross and bring the boat back for the carrier. He accordingly started, but, in a moment after the mule got into deep water, he gave the bridle a [illegible] jerk, whereupon the mule turned round, the young man was seen to slide off and sink. Though a [illegible] good swimmer, he rose and sank again, apparently without an effort at swimming. The alarm was given and assistance soon arrived, but the mail carrier, [illegible] confusion and excitement, indicated his position in the river below where he was eventually found, and the [illegible] for the body was, therefore, fruitless, till about eight o'clock the next morning. His brother, R. [illegible], of this city, and other members of the family, [illegible] by the Wenat, yesterday afternoon, with the remains, which will be buried to-day. The funeral services will take place at half-past eleven o'clock, at the Pres[illegible] Church.

[illegible]—Mr. T. J. Fletcher, the victim of the late [illegible] affray at Vancouver, must be a man of great [illegible] and pluck. Only a week ago he was shot in [illegible], the ball p[illegible]g entirely through his body, [illegible] at the right breast. He was supposed to be [illegible]. He has, however, as it would seem, by sheer pluck, grown better every day since the second, [illegible] he was carried in his bed to the polls, where [illegible] a vote for Garfielde. He replied to his [illegible] when they expressed their fears that the exertion would worry, fatigue and injure him, that if they [illegible] him to worry and injure himself, to keep him [illegible] the polls. He couldn't be quiet if he couldn't [illegible] so vehemently upon being carried to [illegible] that he was finally carried upon the bed on [illegible] bed and all—to the polling place. [illegible] the hotel again, he seemed as fresh as before. Such pluck is not often met with.

[illegible] SOCIETY.—A society for mutual benefit [illegible] organized on Sunday, the 8th inst., among [illegible] of this city, with the following officers: [illegible] M. Goodman; Vice President, L. Cohn; Secretary, [illegible] Levin; Treasurer, R. Pragg; Trustees, [illegible], J. Batt and M. Franklin; Sexton, [illegible]. At the meeting of organization the sum of [illegible] to make a beginning for a fund. [illegible] were subscribed to and will be forwarded to the Secretary of State for [illegible]. The society has already purchased of Mr. Terwilliger, on the [illegible] road, five acres of ground [illegible] for [illegible] purposes. It is the intention to [illegible] the grounds in an ornamental manner, [illegible] shade trees, shrubbery and flowers and [illegible] etc. The society numbers now over [illegible].

PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.—Within the last [illegible] the butchers of this city have entered into a [illegible] union under the above name, for the purpose [illegible] uniformity in business and prices, etc., [illegible] also to close their shops on Sunday. The [illegible] proprietors of shops have signed the articles of [illegible] & Garling, Portland Market; [illegible] & Cline, Pacific and Willamette Markets; J. S [illegible] Market; C. R. Hoffman, Third Street [illegible]; Philip Wyman, Franklin Market; Schloth & [illegible], Union Market; Henry Dabez, Multnomah [illegible]; B. Mayer, Iowa Market; and Ad. [illegible] Washington Market. The agreement goes [illegible] lately. Those who are in the habit of [illegible] on Sunday morning should take notice.

OVERLAND TRAVELING TIME.—The time required to make the overland trip from Portland to the States has again been shortened. The stage will hereafter [illegible] from Umatilla to the Pacific railroad in [illegible]. Heretofore passengers were taken to Salt Lake in six and a half days. The time from Portland to [illegible] via Umatilla and Boise City, will therefore be only about six and a half days. The fare by this arrangement is also reduced. Fare from Portland to Indian Creek Station, Pacific Railroad, is now $80, coin, as $110 to Salt Lake City From Indian Creek Station, fare to C[illegible] will be about $80 in currency.

[illegible].—The Commercial gets the following [illegible]: "Judge Olney has arrived home in safety. [illegible] G. S. Wright failed to take the steamer Celicia [illegible] the bar the second time. She was to take her [illegible] the Sound. The barber here, getting on the [illegible] through the inspiring influence of spiritual beverages, had a couple of knock-downs; for which he was [illegible] "durance vile," tried, and circulating medium [illegible] of $10 and costs extracted...... A new saw [illegible] is to be erected over at Cementville, W. T., [illegible] Knapp, Grant & Co. The machinery is soon to arrive."

[illegible] WANTED.—We have been handed a letter, [illegible] Commercial, written from Thomas Pinkston to [illegible] Mr. G. B. Pinkston, and directed to the Sheriff [illegible] county. Pinkston has not been heard from for 5 [illegible] years. Any person having information of his whereabouts, or facts which would lead to it, will confer a [illegible] by writing to Sheriff Zieber, of this county, or to [illegible] Pinkston, French Village, St Francis county, [illegible].

[illegible] EXAMINATION.—The quarterly examination of [illegible] at the Beth Israel school will commence on [illegible] next at 9 A. M. and continue through the [illegible]. Parents of the pupils and the public generally are [illegible] to attend. This school has been for a long time under the charge of Miss H. R. Phillips, an accom[illegible] instructor, the proficiency of whose pupils, has [illegible] rendered the examinations quite interesting.

[illegible] INTO BUSINESS.—We learn that our friend Paul [illegible], with a partner, has bought out Mr. G. C. Rider, [illegible] of Salmon and First streets, and will here[illegible] on business in the furniture and bedding line. [illegible] a genial fellow and a good business man and we [illegible] to see him succeed to the extent of his utmost [illegible].

[illegible] RECEIVED.—Mr. Wm. Kapus received last [illegible] his commission as Collector of Customs for the [illegible] of Alaska He will start, probably, within the [illegible] or three days, for Sitka, by way of either San [illegible] or Victoria, as the opportunity to sail may first [illegible] itself at the one port or the other.

THE GREAT ECCENTRIC COMING.—Judge McCoy informs [illegible] Geo. Francis Train, who is now in California, has [illegible] an invitation from Hamilton Boyd, Mayor, and [illegible] Committee on Officers of the Day, to deliver the [illegible] at the coming celebration of the 4th of July in [illegible].

INVITED.—At the meeting of the Board of [illegible] of our Fire Department, Saturday evening, in[illegible] were extended to the firemen of Vancouver, Oregon City, Salem, and Albany, to participate [illegible] in the celebration of the 4th of July.

[illegible] RACE.—The trotting race Saturday evening, at the White House, between Smiley's "Carrie" and [illegible]'s "Georgia," mile heats, two in three, was won by "Georgia," in two straight heats; time 3.04 and [illegible]. The stakes were $100 a side.

[illegible] CLOSED.—Capt. Fisher informs us that [illegible] which for some days has been in progress at [illegible], closed yesterday morning. The Wenat [illegible] up a considerable number of persons who have [illegible] in attendance.

[illegible] TO JAIL.—Four persons were sent to jail yesterday by the Recorder—Jack King, for being drunk and [illegible], five days; Wm. Husband, drunk, ten days; [illegible], drunk, ten days; Aaron John, petit larceny, thirty days.

[illegible] PAPERS.—We are indebted to Mr. Goodhue, Purser of the Gussie Telfair, for files of Victoria papers.

[illegible].—San Francisco papers advertise the [illegible] to leave for Portland to-day at ten o'clock.

[illegible] will be served at the Festival, at Armory Hall, to-day from 12 to 2 P M

[illegible] WEAPON.—We call the attention of dealers to the advertisement in our 2d page of Rodmond, Gibbons & Co., of San Francisco, sole Agents on the Pacific Coast for "The Winchester Repeating Arms Company," now the manufacturers of the celebrated Improved Henry Rifle." The wonderful arms made by this company combine such ingenuity, beauty and utility, as to challenge the admiration of the world, and such are their known reputation as a splendid weapon it is unnecessary for us to call public attention to them further All military companies should examine their new Infantry Rifled musket with bayonet, which is said to be the most perfect and beautiful military arm ever produced, carrying eighteen shots, seventeen in magazine and one in the barrel, all of which can be fired with accuracy in nine seconds by an expert accustomed to the use of the gun The Winchester company also manufacture fixed ammunition, which we have no doubt is of very superior quality, as very much depends on the quality of the cartridge used, as to the practical success of their arms. Dealers wishing to purchase a genuine article can also procure the same from Rodmond Gibbons & Co, their San Francisco agents

INVITATION ACCEPTED—At the meeting of Pioneer Base Ball Club, last evening, it was voted to accept the invitation to join in the celebration of the 4th The club will, therefore, turn out in uniform, in full force

PRACTICE.—There will be base ball practice by the Pioneers, at half-past five o'clock, this afternoon, at the East Portland grounds

VALUABLE TESTIMONY.—The following recommendation comes from a source of such well known and indisputable character, that it requires no comment beyond its publication

I have given 'Kane's Imperial Condensed Soap' a thorough and impartial trial, and am satisfied it will do all that is claimed for it. I washed three dozen white shirts, using half a bar of soap It did its work well, requiring no rubbing, and I cheerfully recommend it as the best Washing Compound I ever used

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of it consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

hen Andrew Johnson retired from the dency his admirers entertained great s that he would bring about a political ution in Tennessee and again obtain a iment position before the country But party for which it was hoped that John-would do so much in his own State does even put forward a candidate for Gover-

Both the candidates for that position Republicans and differ from each other on the question how far the ex-rebels ie State should be enfranchised. A cor-ondent writing from Knoxville says that nson has returned to Tennessee a politi-bankrupt, a leader without any supporters id finds the men who are ready to fight er his banners without any political ver—without any party organization. Dur-his absence from his State there has been ing within its borders one of the bitterest most partisan warfares ever fought in State. Men have taken sides in that test, and have become rooted and un-ding in their allegiance, because of the racter and malignity of the contest. The [illegible] have been local in their nature, and ing his absence he has not been able to nence the result in any degree. He can- now become a party to this contest by nging these issues from local to national nes, and thus divert the attention of the ople. He cannot hope to succeed now by [illegible] with his own party, as they stand nmitted on local issues, and he cannot inge those local issues so as to have hopes [illegible] He is, therefore, a leader without pporters, and a leader unable to spring new nes that will meet with public favor. In st [illegible] it was hoped that he could rn the tide of popular sentiment. But ere is precisely where he has lost his influ-ce and is powerless to effect a change. So [illegible] is he of this that he has de-ined to take a place on his party ticket and s virtually withdrawn from the contest. e has [illegible] another conspicuous failure.

There are now positive assurances that a sec-on of the East Side railroad is to be com-[illegible] this year. Persons here connected ith the enterprise are adv[illegible] that twenty-ree miles of rails have been purchased, to rive in San Francisco in July and to reach ortland in August. No doubt orders will oon be received to recommence work on the oute and prepare the road-bed for the ties nd rails. The ties and a large part of the [illegible] for it [illegible] and bridges for the first [illegible] of the road have been ready for some me, and there is now little reason to doubt at by the [illegible] of the year the road will be running order as far as Aurora. This will ive it a good start for next year, so that by e end of 1870 it may be finished to the head f the valley.

The advantage which will enure to the State rom the [illegible] of railroad work and from he activity which will thus be infused into ur industry cannot be overestimated. It [illegible] for our inte[illegible] nd put new life and vigor into every depart-[illegible] of business. It opens up a better pros-ect for the [illegible] than anything else could ive, and all our people have reason to rejoice ver the [illegible] that the work is going on.

Political Foresight.—Talleyrand possessed ome political [illegible] if certain statements urported to have been written by him up-ards of thirty years ago, and which have nly just [illegible] published, are really his. He eems to have fully expected the victory of [illegible] in her struggle with Austria for the ead in [illegible] We see, also, that he [illegible] as to their policy owards the United States. What he would consider might hap-en if Europe [illegible] his native country, France —placed her foot on this continent—in Mexi-o, for instance—may be inferred. But Louis Napoleon had no Talleyrand to advise him when he [illegible] prompting the unfortunate Max-millian to his ruin.

St. Louis.—Whatever may be the ultimate [illegible] St. Louis in her schemes for in-[illegible] and extending her business, her ac-ivity in [illegible] shows great [illegible] and enterprise. The war injured St. ouis and gave Chicago the start of her; but he is now reaching for trade like a live Yan-ee. First, she startles Chicago, the native ome of business energy, by organizing to teal away her grain trade, and send the gold-n [illegible] down the Mississippi that used to rind around the Lakes. Next she gives New ork a shock by scheming to draw the South merican trade to herself. She has even been hreatening for a couple of years past to sup-lant Pittsburg as an iron manufacturing enter. Again, we hear that a move is on oot to make St. Louis the great cattle ex-hange of the West by building such magnifi-ent stock yards that the people of the trans-ississippi south, and the trans-Missouri west cannot choose but make that city their rading point. Some of these schemes may [illegible] But others will succeed. The activity nd business enterprise now being manifested y St. Louis will somehow meet their reward.

Washington Territory Election.—Very little could be learned last evening in regard o the election in Washington Territory. The ote at Vancouver, so far as counted up to alf past nine, made Garfielde five ahead. Two years ago Vancouver gave Clark (Dem.) 3 majority. At the Cascades Moore is re-orted to have 40 majority, a small Demo-ratic gain The last heard from Olympia, ust before the telegraph office was closed, [illegible] that Garfielde was 52 ahead at that lace. These figures, if correct, favor Gar-ielde's election.

The Young Men's Christian Association at Milwaukee (Wis.) has determined to open its ree library on Sundays. The members say hey think the opening of their library will not keep one man from church who would otherwise go, and that it will keep many men, especially young men and strangers, from rog shops and worse, who would go there [illegible] pure ennui if the innocent recreation nd the opportunity of improvement fur-ished by the library were denied them.

In General

Nearly every day we hear of a new batch of clerks being dismissed from some of the Departments at Washington. They go by hundreds, and fifties, and twenty-fives, now male, and now female. We are told that these dismissals are absolute—not made to create vacancies for importunate place-seekers. If this be so, the wonder arises how such an enormous number of unnecessary clerks could have got into the departments. There must have been greatly more than anybody outside of the ring had any idea of.

Large quantities of old iron rails are now imported into this country from England. At Baltimore alone during the last three months more than ten thousand tons have been received. Some of these rails are sent to the mills to be rolled over again, and others are immediately put down for use.

OREGON.

The Douglas County Agricultural Society has organized under the incorporation laws of the State.

A Southern Oregon paper says: Droves of horned cattle have mostly disappeared from the roads, but large bands of sheep continue to pass on their way south.

Crops of every description in every part of the State look remarkably well. The yield of agricultural products in the State will be much greater than of any former year.

The Roseburg Ensign learns that a child of Capt. Butler of Empire City was drowned in the bay, on the 25th ult. The child was missed and his hat was found where it had floated ashore, which told the child's fate, though the body had not been found at last advices. It was supposed that he fell from the wharf.

The Roseburg paper relates the following. An incident has been narrated to us which proves that the women of Umpqua valley are no less heroic and patriotic than beautiful. There is a house, not ten miles from this place, the porch of which has, for several years past, been beautifully decorated with a large American flag. Last week a notorious secessionist from Lane county, named Mulkey, passing that way, halted before the house and swore that he would tie that flag to the tail of his horse and drag it through the streets of the next village. The man of the house was absent, but the lady came to the door and politely told the ruffian that if he was a gentleman he would pass along, and not molest a house protected only by a woman. But no appeal to manhood can avail where all the elements of manhood are wanting, and the dastardly villain persisted in his threat to drag the flag at his horses tail. Perceiving that mild means failed, the heroic woman took down a loaded gun and told her insulter that she would shoot him on the first attempt to carry his threat into execution. This argument proved effectual, and after some further parley the chivalrous (!) fellow remounted and rode off, leaving the brave woman mistress of the situation.

THE WEST.

The marriage licenses issued in San Francisco number about two thousand a year.

Eb. & Jo. Pinkham have purchased of Henry Greathouse, the stock, vehicles, right of route and daily mail contract between Idaho and Boise cities.

The San Francisco Herald says that a doctor of that city has, in manuscript, and will soon publish, a book to prove that light is inherent in the atmosphere of all the planets.

The prospects of the great Comstock lode of Nevada promise a more steady and continuous return for capital than ever. This is chiefly attributable to the reduction in the cost of working ores.

An Owyhee paper says: We observe very large sacks of crude bullion being hauled up from the Owyhee mill every day or two, the product, principally, of the Golden Chariot. We hear the estimate of the present run on Chariot ore placed at $160,000.

The San Francisco Monitor, a Democratic paper, gives the following good advice: Let those who are unskilled in mechanical pursuits, and who are dependant on their labor for support, leave the large cities and settle on the public domains; a few years and they will be employers instead of employes; they will be hiring instead of competing with inferior races.

By the President of the United States of America:

Whereas, The Act of Congress, approved June 29, 1868, constituted on and after that day eight hours a day's work for all laborers, workmen and mechanics by or on behalf of the Government of the United States, and repealed all Acts and parts of Acts inconsistent therewith;

Now, therefore, I, U.S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby direct that from and after this date no reduction shall be made in the wages paid by the Government by the day to such laborers, workmen and mechanics, on account of such reduction of the hours of labor.

In testimony whereof, I have hereto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, the 10th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-third.

(Signed) U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

The English Pharmacy Act.—The new Pharmacy Act, which went into operation in England at the commencement of this year, provides that no person can commence business as a chemist and druggist in Great Britain without being registered as such, after examination. Two grades in the profession are established, to wit: "chemist and druggist," and "pharmaceutical chemist." To obtain the subordinate title of chemist and druggist, it is necessary to pass a minor examination in prescriptions, practical dispensing of medicine, pharmacy, materia medica, botany and chemistry. The candidate must be able to read prescriptions without abbreviation, translate them into English, and give both a literal and idiomatic rendering of the Latin directions for use. He must also possess a knowledge of the elementary structure of plants, their names, the orders to which they belong, the countries from which they are obtained, and the preparations into which they enter. In the more extended examination, which confers the higher title of pharmaceutical chemist, with exemption from serving on juries, the candidate, in addition to the above tests, must translate English prescriptions into Latin, detect errors in Latin prescriptions, know when a dose is unusually large, be acquainted with the means of detecting poisons and the antidotes to be given, be able to distinguish spurious from genuine drugs, and show a familiarity with the laws of chemical combination, and both the Linnean and the Natural system of botany.

"Awful examples" now appear to be in demand for the enforcement of political views, and it is amusing to observe the eagerness with which exceptional casualties are seized upon by the advocates of special theories to strengthen a political argument, rather than to point a moral. The recent fatal accident on the Long Island Railroad is a case in point. The shiftless management of the road has for years been the subject of newspaper comment, and the accident was doubtless due to a lack of competent and efficient supervision over the track. The New York journals, however, have discovered that the tariff question is responsible for the accident, the Tribune, as the organ of protection, finding that it occurred because rails from American rolling mills were not used, while the Post, as the oracle of free trade, annihilates the doctrine of protection by showing that the rails were of Pennsylvania manufacture. The absurdity of all such reasoning requires no demonstration. If the train was thrown from the track because of a broken rail, it is of little consequence whether the rail was made in Europe or America, the important fact being that the rail, wherever made, was not fit for use

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO JUNE 7.

Washington News.

Chicago, June 7.—Washington specials say that J Russel Jones has not been appointed as Minister to Belgium, as stated.

In consequence of the failure of Congress to pass the necessary appropriations, work on the different defensive works throughout the country are nearly suspended.

The Administration is determined to make no more foreign appointments at present. This leaves Minister Sanford in Belgium and Minister Marsh in Italy.

Gen. Schenck will sail for Europe on the 9th. He will not accompany the Ways and Means Committee to California.

The Tribune's special says a negro has been appointed Joiner in the Navy Yard, which has greatly excited the Joiners' Union.

The new Peruvian Minister has arrived and will be presented to the President this week.

The Commission to adjudicate the difficulties between Spain and the South American States will probably assemble at an early day, wherein our Government is Umpire.

No official information has been received of the recognition of the Cuban insurgents by Peru and the State department does not consider it of much importance, if true.

It is stated on unquestionable authority that Spain is having about thirty light draft gunboats built in this country for guarding the coast of Cuba.

General Jefferson C. Davis will soon be relieved of the command at Alaska. One of the California papers some weeks ago printed articles which were widely copied in the East in which it was charged and shown by specifications that a great deal of lawlessness exists among the soldiers there; that outrages of an indecent character had been perpetrated upon a number of women, that some of the troops were greatly addicted to drunkenness, and others living openly with abandoned women. Other reports show that Indians and natives had been abused and maltreated in many cases, that there is a deplorable lack of discipline among a portion of the troops. The President has made inquiry into the matter and finds that the newspapers have by no means told the worst. An officer of more efficiency than Gen. Davis has proved to be will be sent to take his place.

Considerable excitement is arising over the municipal election in Washington, which occurs to day. The Democrats charge the Radicals with importing negroes from Maryland and Virginia. It is reported that the Conservatives have got out warrants for the arrest of several hundred of these negroes. The Democrats have not nominated any ticket but will support the independent citizens ticket.

New York News.

New York, June 6.—At a monthly meeting of the Savior Alumni Society yesterday, Archbishop McClosky devoted an interesting address. He warned young men against secret societies, especially Free Masonry. He said he was astonished at hearing learned gentlemen of another faith express the belief that the Catholic Church could not be serious in her prohibition of Free Masonry, as Archbishop Hughes, several eminent Priests, and even Pope Pius 9th were Free Masons.

During a fight in the twenty-first ward yesterday, between John Bennett, James Brady and James Lynch, Bennett stabbed both his antagonists. Brady's wounds are mortal.

The report of the Deputy Commissioner of revenue, shows that during October, November and December, 1868, fifty seven per cent. of our domestic exports, and ninety per cent. of our exports had been transported in foreign vessels

Steamboat Explosion.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 6.—The tug Asa Covell, yesterday afternoon, exploded the boiler belonging to the tug, to atoms. Capt. Joseph Greenland, Jr., was instantly killed and others are supposed to be drowned. Five persons were rescued from the water, one of whom was severely injured.

The Pearl Oil Works were burned on Sunday morning; no insurance; loss, $100,000.

Miscellaneous.

A telegram from Santa Fe reports that the United States Depository was robbed of $300,000 on Saturday. J. L. Collins, the depositor was found dead in his room, shot through the heart. No clue to the robbers.

Jas. Washington (colored) has sued the Quincy Packet for $2,000 damages for refusing to allow him a seat at the regular table and afterwards ejecting him from the boat.

The Tribune's special says the case of Judge Fullerton for whisky frauds will probably be postponed again on account of the sickness of Judge Nelson. The District Attorney is ready to proceed with the case, but Judge Nelson is unable to attend Court.

A morning paper says that a ship which cleared for San Francisco sailed yesterday for Cuba with 800 men, mostly recruited in the west, commanded by Col. Hendry, formerly Captain of an Ohio regiment. The men were fully equipped. Most of them have seen service.

A letter from Dublin says that O'Donovan Rossa, the Irish patriot, has suffered greatly in imprisonment. He was kept for five weeks with his hands manacled behind his back night and day. Rossa and five companions were in the Cheatham jail at last accounts.

The steamer Quaker City will be released tomorrow and take in stores for her voyage to Kingston.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

San Francisco, June 7.—A little daughter of Mrs. Murray, residing at 414 Market street, fell into a tub of water yesterday and was drowned.

Yesterday afternoon I. Morrell was stabbed twice in the abdomen by a man named John Wilson. The latter was having a difficulty with another party, on Montgomery street, opposite the Occidental Hotel, when Morrell interfered and received the wounds.

The City Railroad Company have completed arrangements with the Montgomery Street Real Estate Company to run their cars along the new Montgomery street south from Market street to Mission street, and the workmen are to commence laying track to-morrow morning preparatory to paving the street with stone pavement.

Silk and Tea Culture in California.

Placerville, June 7.—Messrs Schnell & Bennett, agents and managers for the Japanese families now en route for this State, have purchased the ranch of Chas Grano, near Gold Hill, in this county, paying five thousand dollars therefor. They express themselves highly pleased with the location for all the purposes intended silk and tea culture. They design increasing their area to at least 10,000 acres. The nature of the ground in that locality will allow of this, giving them nearly or quite a connected plantation of that dimension.

NEVADA.

Virginia, June 7.—By a premature explosion of a blast in tunnel No. 1, on the Virginia and Truckee Railroad, Saturday evening, Wm. Lyons, a native of Ireland, aged 38 years, was instantly killed, and Jno. Dennis severely injured.

Water is not costly. The Financial Chronicle publishes a list of twenty eight great railroads in this country, whose aggregate stock in 1867 was $287,036,000, which in two years have watered their stock to the extent of 113,618,000, their present aggregate valuation being $400,694,000. This beats all the milkmen of the age

At the masquerade balls this winter, with scarcely a single exception, the Can-can spirit has seemed to pervade everything and everybody. Hence, young men and Anonymas have introduced the dance in its most ungraceful, grotesque and exaggerated form. In vain have experts been imported direct from the Bal Mabille to teach them its Parisian delicacy or its delicacy of spicy flavor and wickedness. They have left their instructors far behind, and preferred to Americanize—and vulgarize it. The excess to which it has been carried has more than bordered upon insanity. At the height of one of these balls, in the Academy of Music, a single couple, occupying a proscenium box began dancing the Can-can in full view of the assemblage. Upon the floor beneath, the watching and applauding crowd widened and widened, until those two young persons absorbed the entire interest of the moment. Cheer upon cheer greeted each fresh endeavor on their part, their audience was on the very tip toe of excitement, flushed and breathless; they danced on, only stopping to throw kisses and flowers to the swaying crowd, until, ready to faint with exhaustion, they were literally unable to stand a moment longer. On such a scene as this, gazed the wives and mothers, the daughters and sisters of respectable citizens of New York, interested and unabashed, if not altogether unblushing. In the very midst of such a scene as this, jostled, glowing and elated with artificial, unhealthy, mad excitement, were respectable citizens of New York themselves. Can any comment be more eloquent than the bare facts presented?

Gathering force and impetuosity, the great wave of sensuality has rolled on, seemingly without an object to check its progress, until, at length it seems to have reached a climax, and curling, foaming and towering above our heads, ready to fall upon us like a destroying deluge. The last public masked ball held in this city was a public disgrace to America, and an insult to civilization of the nineteenth century. It was advertised in the public press, the tickets were on sale in public places, and every outward claim was made at least to ordinary respectability. But for many days beforehand it was the foremost topic of conversation among what might be called "Young New York," and simultaneously anticipated as a delightful innovation. These two classes met and mingled together within the walls of a popular theatre, and scenes of revelry, carousal and dissipation followed that beggars description.

Here at least the mask was thrown off; nobody claimed respectability, vice herded with vice, corruption with corruption. But in the frightful maelstrom were hurled far down the dizzy road to ruin hundreds of young men, fitted by birth, training and education for the most exalted positions in society; and it was affirmed that there were respectable women present, and it is certain that ordinarily staid and sober men, with faces lined with care, witnessed and applauded the horrible parody upon enjoyment, with a zest only too evident. The bestial spirit of sensuality and licentiousness ruled the hour. High and low were reduced to a flat and uncomprising level of degredation. Quadrille, lancers, schottish, waltz and polka, were all arbitrarily cancanized. Women were tossed from boxes to floor and back again, like so many packages of dry goods or borne aloft in a crowd, shameless, upon the shoulders of shameless men. Not one faint flicker of refinement, not one feeble remonstrance, marred the consistent effrontery and debauchery of the occasion. Paris was out-done by New York; the eccentricities of La Closerie paled before the extravagance of Mi Careme; and the long night of revelry went out in the gray twilight of daybreak, like the garish meteor that drops from the zenith to the horizon, leaving a red trail of blood behind it. Even the voice of Mrs. Grundy was awed into silence by such splendid and fearless sin. One or two newspapers denounced it mildly; the participants winked at one another with bloodshot eyes for a day or two; then it became a thing of the past. Does no blot remain? Is there no scar left?—Home Journal.

The Manufacture of Pins.

[From the London Engineer.]

About the middle of the last century the Ryland family introduced into Birminham the two new industries of wire-drawing and pin-making, which at that period were regarded as twin handicrafts. After a steady development of five-and-twenty years the pin trade was transferred to an ancestor of the present eminent firm of Thos. Phipson & Son. A few years since every school-boy's manual contained a sketch of the operation of pin-making as a remarkable instance of the division of labor. A single pin had to undergo the manipulation of not less than fourteen pairs of hands before it was ready for the cushion in a lady's boudoir. This forcible illustration no longer applies. Pin-making, like other industries, has been subject to the scientific progress and improvement of the age, and the process is now comparatively simple. An American engineer, named Wright, patented in 1824, a pin machine which, during the revolution of a single wheel, produced a perfect pin. Mr. Thomas Phipson thus describes Wright's machine, which, having undergone many improvements, is now in operation at the factory of the former here: The principal shaft gives motion in its rotation to several sliders, levers, and wheels, which work the principal parts of the machine. A slider pushes forward pincers, which draw wire from a reel at every rotation of the shaft, and advance such a length of wire as will produce one pin. A die cuts off this length of wire by the descent of its upper "chap," and the latter then opens a carrier, which takes on the wire to the pointing apparatus. Here it is received by a holder, which turns round while a bevel-edged file wheel rapidly revolving, gives to the wire its rough point. It proceeds immediately by a second carrier to a second and finer file-wheel, by which the point is finished. A third carrier transfers the pin to the first heading die, and by the advance of a steel punch one end of the pin wire is forced into a recess, whereby the head is partially produced. A fourth carrier removes the pin to a second die, where the heading is completed. When the heading bar retires a forked lever draws the pin from the die and drops it into a receptacle below. It is then ready to be "whitened" and "stuck." The whitening is performed in a copper vessel placed on a fire in which the pins are boiled in water along with grains of metallic tin and a little bitartrate of potash. When the boiling has continued for about one hour the pins and tin grains are removed, thoroughly washed, dried, and polished in bran. Various kinds of apparatus are employed for sticking the pins into sheets of fluted paper, and also in folding the paper for the wrappers.

Bishop Simpson declares for women suffrage, though he says, "In an ordinary political canvass I do not see that anything would be gained. The vote would simply be increased, without any probability of change; but on all moral questions, and on questions affecting the right of women to engage in any honorable calling to gain a livelihood, the ballot in her hands would be a powerful element."

The Day fixed to commence work on the East Side Railroad is July 1st. By that time the Company will have sufficient Railroad Iron on the way or in Portland to complete twenty miles of road. Workmen without employment should be patient for the Company will give employment to a thousand men, at good wages, and of course KOHN & FISHEL will continue to sell the very best clothing in that time at remarkably low figures.

TWO SHOTS A SECOND!
Rifles, Carbines, Rifled Muskets
AND
"IMPROVED HENRY PATENT."
MANUFACTURED BY THE WINCHESTER REPEATING ARMS COMPANY.

THE ABOVE COMPANY HAVE PURCHASED THE Celebrated "Henry Patent," and greatly improved on the same, are now making a vastly superior arm, which excels all others for power, accuracy, convenience and rapidity of loading and firing. The Infantry Rifle, with Bayonet, is the most perfect and beautiful military arm ever produced, and the Sporting Rifle and Carbine are unequaled. These splendid weapons will deliver at the rate of TWO SHOTS A SECOND.

The Carbines carry thirteen shots in the magazine and one in the barrel, and the Rifle seventeen shots in the magazine and one in the barrel, or eighteen shots, all of which can be fired with precision by an expert, in nine seconds. Another great advantage these Rifles have over all others is that they can be loaded and fired as SINGLE BREECH LOADERS, at the rate of twenty shots per minute, and at the same time retain in the magazine sixteen shots in reserve. The above company are also giving special attention to the manufacture of FIXED AMMUNITION, and their CARTRIDGES are justly celebrated for their superior quality. None are genuine except those having "Flat Point" bullets, and the letter H raised on the head of the copper shell. The undersigned now offer to the trade a full assortment of the ARMS and AMMUNITION manufactured by "The Winchester Arms Company," and on terms more advantageous than they can be imported.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 6.

The Indian Massacres.

LEAVENWORTH, June 6.—A special from Ellsworth says that Gen. Miles' courier has arrived from Saline. He reports two additional bodies found, making thirteen killed. The Indians are devastating the settlements on the Solomon and Republican rivers. Adjutant General Morphuse leaves to-night for the Republican river, with 23 scouts recruited here. He received dispatches to-day that the Indians in the vicinity of White Rock and Lake Sibley have been all the week in large numbers killing and destroying everything.

Major Cox, from the Tenth Cavalry, has arrived from Camp Supply. He reports that all the Arapahoes and 400 Cheyennes at that post are hungry and out of ammunition. Colonel Nelson, superintendent, is there with a stock of provisions and wood for their benefit.

The colonies in Jewell and Mitchell counties, Northwestern Kansas, have been driven into Republican and Washington counties. Nearly twenty persons were killed. There is a panic among the settlers of that part of the State.

Cuban Affairs.

NEW YORK, June 6.—A Herald special from Havana says the programme of the volunteers is to remain quiet until the arrival of General de Rodo. The Spanish Admiral has strongly objected to the action of the volunteers in deposing Dulce, but as he finally acquiesced it is believed he will remain a passive spectator of whatever they may do before the arrival of Gen. de Roda.

HAVANA, June 6.—The volunteers hope to establish a triumvirate, to consist of prominent Spanish to govern the island till the home government is settled. They will probably give Count Valmazeda command of the forces in the field. The Governor of Havana and Chief Justice have resigned.

Forty officials and the Bishop of Cuba accompany Gen. Dulce to Spain.

Child Murder and Suicide.

DETROIT, June 6.—Dr. Day, who has been on trial for several days at Marshall, Mich., charged with child murder by producing abortion, was last night found guilty. To conclude the tragedy, he took morphine and died to-day.

Land Troubles in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, June 6.—Advices from the neutral lands, Kansas, state that on the 3d a party of 35 leaguers appeared at a point ten miles south of Fort Scott, on the line of the railroad, and drove away the laborers and pulled up the surveyors' stakes.

Printers' National Union.

ALBANY, June 6.—Delegates to the Printers' National Union, which meets here to-morrow, have arrived here from a large number of States and Territories and from the Canadas. Mrs. Howard and Augusta Lewis, from New York, are here also for the purpose of asking for a charter. The session will last for a week. A number of excursions to Saratoga and elsewhere will take place.

Passengers Saved.

Fire at Camden, New Jersey.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—A saw and grist mill of McKeone & Brigham's, Camden, New Jersey, was destroyed this morning with the grain, flour and lumber to the amount of $5,000. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

Suicide of a Murderer.

BOSTON, June 6.—Dennis Reem convicted of murdering his brother in-law some months since, and who was sentenced to death on Wednesday last, committed suicide this afternoon by hanging himself in his cell.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, June 5.—The Standard, tory organ, after abusing American arrogance and greed, says no English minister ever had to make explanations so humiliating as Clarendon had to make before the House of Lords. He added that it is still his duty, notwithstanding the past, to renew his efforts even without any hope or honest desire for concord being rightly interpreted by any but small sections of the American people. Clarendon even announced that his government will not refuse to reopen negotiations. However, they were not approached in a spirit similar to that which animated Sumner's speech which was so applauded by the American Senate; but for the moment he was unable to communicate to the House the tenor of Motley's instructions or even whether he had any instructions which he could at present make known.

The Times says Clarendon observed truly enough that no impartial person could deny that everything had been done to meet the wishes and adopt the proposals made by the American government. The Times says it made no great expression of satisfaction when the negotiations fell through. For its own part, considering how much the Americans wanted and how much the British were ready to give, it was a wonder that England got off so well.

Some arrests have been made in Paris during the last nine days in consequence of a report by the police of a new political conspiracy. The details of the affair are unknown.

A meeting of conservative peers was held yesterday to determine what course is to be pursued in regard to the bill to disestablish the Irish Church. Lord Carrins argued that opposition should be made to the bill on its second reading, and that it should be finally rejected. He said the leaders of the party did not wish to dictate and were anxious that the judgment of each peer should remain unfettered. He felt as if the country had never pronounced upon the present bill. As the feeling in the House of Lords was so opposed to it, the most consistent and best course to pursue under the circumstances would be to repudiate the measure.

Lord Salisbury depreciated the course of agitation which would allow the rejection of the bill. It would be most disastrous to the country, and would do nothing to save the Irish Church. It would be better to accept the bill and modify it in committee than to renew the feeling and excitement.

Cameron supported the recommendation of Lord Salisbury.

Derby favored the rejection of the bill, contending that personal fears should deter no one from doing right. The majority of the Lords present approved the views of Derby, and it was agreed that the second reading of the bill should be opposed.

It is estimated that there will be a majority of eighty against the Irish Church bill in the House of Lords on its second reading.

MADRID, June 5.—Admiral Topete read General Dulce's telegram, announcing his resignation as Captain General of Cuba, before the Cortes last evening. Great excitement prevailed. Marshal Serrano asked for a suspension of judgment until the arrival of Dulce, and until the whole matter is known. It is rumored that Dulce was recalled on account of leniency to the Cuban insurgents.

The direct taxes in the Spanish colonies have been reduced to one half, and a small export duty on sugar, rum and tobacco is imposed.

BERLIN, June 5.—The Parliament of the Zollverein have elected Herr Simpson President and Prince Hopelok Vice President. Prince Hopelok thanked the Chamber for his re-election, and said this vote in his eyes had a great political importance. The confidence shown him would encourage him to proceed and persevere in the course he considered right, and bring about a good understanding, reconciliation and union among the Germans.

The North German Parliament has adopted the federal budget. The annual revenue and expenditures of the Confederation are about equal.

BRUSSELS, June 5.—The Upper Chamber has confirmed the bill of the lower House to abolish imprisonment for debt.

DUBLIN, June 5.—An immense public meeting of persons opposed to the Irish Church bill has been held in Londonderry. Nearly 120,000 persons were present to protest against the bill. The resolutions adopted will be sent to the House of Lords.

ALEXANDRIA, (Egypt) June 5.—There is a report from the interior that an Englishman and his family have been massacred by the natives in Abyssinia.

Even the New York Tribune goes back on the Anti-Slavery Society. Speaking of that now missionless association, Mr. Greeley says that "the proceedings were not up to the old standard of interest," and hints that the Society has "outlived its usefulness, though not its aggressiveness."

An interesting feature in London society at the present time, is a number of Bengali gentlemen who are there prosecuting their studies in literature, law and medicine, with a view to practice at the Indian bar, or to secure a direct appointment to the medical and civil services which the competative system has opened to them.

Will the Blacks Die Out!

We agree neither, says the Tribune, with those who profess apprehension of "Negro Supremacy" in this country, nor with those who insist that "niggers must die out," because of their emancipation. Some of them will prove idle, worthless, drunken vagabonds (like some whites;) and these will die out and leave no progeny as is best. Probably the number who thus use themselves up has been increased by emancipation. As a rule, those who flock into the cities will come to no good. On the other hand, we presume the blacks are much less affected by white lechery than while enslaved, and that all their women who choose to be chaste are so, which was not the case by long odds in the past. And the Star (Washington,) whose editor was born and bred a slaveholder, says:

"The alleged decrease of the actual number of negroes since the war, through the loss of the patriarchal institution for their welfare (and all that sort of nonsense,) will be found to have amounted to no decrease whatever. They have been better fed, better clothed, and better housed, since the war than ever before, I apprehend, and where existing in greater numbers have almost entirely escaped what was previously a cause of the annual destruction of thousands on thousands of their children under one year old. I refer to the practice of overworking mothers who had infants, in cotton and sugar fields. I have personally known plantations on which for a series of years seventy-five per centum of the natural increase of the negroes were literally murdered after that fashion, it being the received theory of profitable planting under the Slavery's rule that it was cheaper to buy able hands from the Eastern and Northern slaveholding States than to raise them."

Of course, the relative strength of the black element of our population must steadily decrease, because not reinforced by immigration, as the white is. It has been a fourth, it is now less than an eighth; the next census will reduce it below a tenth; and the child is already born who will see it below a twentieth. We estimate that the United States, if no further enlarged, will have 110,000,000 of people in 1910, and that of these the blacks and yellows will hardly number 6,000,000.

More Remarks on an "Impracticable School master."

The Yamhill Courier continues to fight its party brethren on the question of repudiation, and to fortell the consequences to the party of the adoption of that issue. It "goes after" the Herald again in this style:

> It is a burning shame that the Democracy is incumbered with wild men who prate in favor of repudiating the National debt and the abolishing of the general government.
> The Albany Democrat favors repudiation, the Herald favors repudiation, and we do not know how many others of our Oregon papers. If they should succeed in forcing that dishonorable measure upon the Democracy, its funeral had as well be preached in advance.
> It matters not whether the public moneys were judiciously expended, whether the same might have been obtained with less funds, whether the emergency of the country might have been passed without the accumulation of so large an indebtedness, it is nevertheless true that those who contracted the indebtedness were the legal agents of the people and that the government is under legal and moral obligation to fulfill their part of the contract, the other part having been fulfilled by those to and for whom the government bonds and the national currency were needed. The Herald is pumping away with a very small spirit-gun trying to extinguish the flames that have already burned up and consumed the Southern Confederacy.

California Politics.

The action of the Democratic Central Committee of San Francisco in appointing delegates to the approaching State Convention instead of allowing the masses of the party to elect them, gives great dissatisfaction and portends trouble. The Examiner, the leading Democratic organ, says:

> Last year a similar step cost us 1,500 voter, and lost us the State. The importance of the Presidential election made men acquiesce in a great wrong, rather than attempt to redress it on the eve of the election, to the peril of the safety of the ticket. But there is ample time now for the masses to act, and the Committee can rest assured that act they will. There will probably be no undue excitement, but firm and determined purpose. They will not be driven to the polls to ratify the cut and dried nominees of a self-perpetuating, usurping committee. If they are fit to elect Judges they are fit to nominate them. This action of the Committee is an experiment. If the party acquiesce in it, they will next appoint a convention for the nomination of all [illegible]

The Sacramento Bee has the following, which explains the origin of the family jar among the San Francisco Democracy:

> The contest now raging in the Democratic party at San Francisco is a struggle for power between the high chivalry—the native born Southerner and his Eastern born adherent on the one side, and the low chivalry, composed of Democratic Irishmen, on the other. The chief struggle is over the mayoralty. The high chivs want Beard to succeed McCoppin, and the low chivs fight to retain McCoppin where he is, and then make him Governor, or purchase U. S. Senator. The County Committee is high chiv, hence the resolve to make all the nominations itself [illegible] usurpation of authority; but the low chivs protest loudly, and will make the high chivs come down from their high horse, or defeat them in the end. It is a very pretty quarrel as it stands; but we will wager a corn cake against a pint of peanuts that the low chivs will come off conquerors, and that the high chivs will be obliged to take back all they have done—to eat their own words, to put on [illegible] and [illegible] for their evil doings. The Police Judgeship also enters largely into the struggle. The high chivs want a show at the [illegible] that are awarded by the Police Commissioners, composed of the Mayor, Police Judge and Chief of Police. The low chivs have all the fat [illegible] now, and the high [illegible] are working for a new deal. It was [illegible] however, for the high chivs to take advantage of their position on the Committee and attempt to gobble up all the places. Fair play is a jewel; but there are no jewels [illegible]

THE INVENTION OF COLT'S REVOLVER.—The Louisville Express is responsible for the following curious story in reference to the invention of the pistol which goes by the name of the "Colt's revolver." If the story is not true, it is at all events ingeniously devised to bear the semblance of truth, but it is simply given here as a curiosity.

There are people in Tennessee who will tell you a queer story [illegible] the way in which the late Colonel Colt invented the repeater which bears his name, and which enabled him to leave a widow with an income of nearly four [illegible] dollars. They say that some [illegible] five years ago a gunsmith from Fayetteville, in that State, came to Nashville in search of employment, and as he was a skillful workman and a sober, industrious man, he soon found [illegible] in one of the shops there. He was what the world calls "a good easy fellow," always at work but always poor, wasting most of his time upon inventions of his own, some of which were very [illegible] and some of which he lacked the perseverance and the means to complete and introduce to the public. Among the last named was a repeating pistol, a model of which he had made at Fayetteville and brought with him to Nashville. He had never had it patented, for twenty or twenty-five years ago it was far more troublesome to procure a patent for a new invention than it is in our day, inventors in obscure villages knowing little or nothing about the process by which patents were obtained.

Working in the same shop with our Fayetteville gunsmith was a young journeyman from Connecticut, [illegible] Colt. The new [illegible] pistol was drawn from the inventor's trunk one day, and exhibited to the workmen. Colt took a good look at it, examining all its machinery with the greatest care; but like the shrewd Yankee he was, said nothing as to its merits. In a few days Colt threw up his situation in the Nashville shop and returned to his native State. Nothing more was heard of him until [illegible] as the inventor and patentee of Colt's repeater—the identical repeater the Fayetteville gunsmith exhibited to him in Nashville.

This is the story they tell in Tennessee. We do not vouch for the truth of it, though we think it likely that it might very safely be done. Colt died a millionaire, leaving a wife and several children to mourn his loss and rejoice in his genius, and to enjoy an income of $397,000. The Fayetteville gunsmith may or may not have starved to death. If he did not, it was no doubt because it is and always had been impossible to starve in so plentiful a country as Tennessee.

VALUE OF THE PACIFIC RAILROAD LANDS.—The value of the land subsidies to the Overland Railroads is worth much more on the Central than on the Union portion of the route. The latter deducting the worthless portion, have about 6,500,000 acres, from which they will realize at a minimum price of $2 50 per acre—realizing in all $16,250,000. The Union Company, although they have built the greater number of miles of the road, and have a larger area of land, will not be able to realize from more than one quarter of the same—say 2,200,000 acres; which at $2 50, will yield them only $5,500,000.
